The Daily Standard. Thursday, Tebruary 2, 1871. Party Government.

to manage their own local affairs. Governors, backed up by an irresponsible Executive Council and an obstructive Upper House, did as they pleased,—and treated the demands of the representatives of the people for self-government as requests from rebels resolved on overturning the government in order to change their allegiance. In England, with few exceptions, Responsible Government seemed to be something akin to seperation from the parent country. Unnumbered evils were conjured up to influence all against so democratic, so repub-lican a form of government. But, in the enc, it was all of no avail. The Home Government gave way, and the doctrine was admitted that the people of the Colouies had a right to be governed in accordance with their well-understood wishes. The officials at the heads of Departments were pensioned, and vacated office; and their auccessors, the leaders of party, having the support and confidence of a majority of the representatives, took their places. Government then became strictly party government, on the British prineiple. In the Assemblies, facing each other, sat the two parties. On one side, opposition. In fact, the Assemblies became miniature Houses of Commons : one party trying to remain in power, the other party trying to take away their power. A watchful opposition kept the party in power up to the mark; and a wholesome public opinion kept both parties in cheek in the common interest. Soon all the dangers that it was imagined would result from Responsible Government were dispelled. Instead of producing seperation, the change of the system only intensified their loyalty. The errors of administration were no longer due to Downing street governing colonies thousands. ands of miles distant; but had to be attributed to themselves. The emulation between rival parties, bidding for popular favor, produced measures that removed the grievances of the people, and gave an astonishing impetus to industry, developing the country more rapidly than was ever known before. To-day, no one can be found in the advanced colonies hold arough to ask for the restoration of can be found in the advanced colonies bold enough to ask for the restoration of the Old Family Compact system; whilst everybody is astonished that a British characteristic people were so long content with an irresponsible form of administration. The more self-government has been extended to the colonies, the happier and more prosperous they have become. It will be the same with us. For ten years this Colony has struggled to manage its this Colony has struggled to manage its

Is an Free School Bill. EDITOR SPANDARD:—This colony will not be saved by any one great man; the bone and muscle of intelligent labouring men must work out its salvation; blundering executive councillors may mar for a time the chances o a good and equitable system of education, out thank heaven their end is nigh, their time is running out like a river running down a mountain, and there is no political anction to heal their sores, or, cure their wee; the concentrated and consolidated intelligence of the working men will, in the end, prove victorious. The life of British Columbia lies not in hair a dozen political demi-men, but is made up of the men who drive the planch, who up of the men who drive the plough, who build the steamboats, who run the mills, who delve deep in the mines where the sun is never seen. These constitute the life and strength of this country. It is impossible for us to conceive the boldness of a few men who are the enemies of public education in this colony, as a fact, it has no precedent in any province as a fact, it has no precedent in any province or state in North America. The condition of our public schools, at the present time demand the immediate action of the Legislature, the importance of the question also demands that argument should be added. General morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools, and the means of education. kind, schools, and the means of education, should be forever encouraged; is it wise then we ask, for Legislators to occupy their time by private Bill and class Legislation, and fold their arms in apathetic indifference, when three hundred poor children of school age in this district alone are not attending any school at the present time, is this recognising the principle that it is the bounded duty of the government to provide for the instruction of all youths, if this state of things is good for British Columbia and we do not take instant and effective means to ramedy it, these three hundred neglected children will graw up into three hundred benighted men and women, it is better by far, to have less (cribbing) on the up country roads, and save these poor children from desolation to be sure, some communities do without public schools, the wild Apaches, I know "do without them" and in the Fejec Islands, where they fricassee one another, 'they do without' public schools. The lack of public schools in all parts of this colony, has kept from our shores hun-dreds of families who otherwise would have ladly settled here; one of the first questions is the complete for the purpose of elections, ourse and quiet ought the circumstances of this house to be, and over its portals written: 'Politics, bigotry, ill-nature and filthiness barbidden to enter here,' it is the duty of the elected members of the Legislative Assembly the representatives of the people, to unite nant fund, a well regulated school system and that it shall be uniform throughout the The new about thirty years since Responsible Government was first introduced into the Colonies. The Liberals, the Reference had a long and arduous straggle against the local provincial authorities and their followers, and especially against the magnetes of Downley street, before they succeeded in inaugurating "that form of administration." Time and time again did the Home Government reference to the Colonies the right.

And that it shall be uniform throughout the colony. We ask every Legislator in considering the question of education, to bear in mind that his vote will influence the destinies of five thousand children for good or for evil; that four thousand children in the colony are growing up not attending any school; that the best franchise which can be granted to the colony is a generation of young men trained to an intelligent patriotism; and that true colony. Entron Standard:—To constitute one's self a public censor is anything but a pleasant duly, but when the short comings of public bouies, can be reached only by such means, the action is not only right but justifiable. This happens at present to be the case with respect to the Committee of Management, of the Agri-Horticultural Society, a body appointed at one of the late meetings, with full power to make and carry out the arrangements for the lete show, and with instructions to report back to the directors, after the show. Up to this time however, no report has been the soil of the shalls, this evening, fell down and died immediately from appopiexy.

The Vancourer Coal Company consider it would not be out of place to submit a few facts touching the question and cause of the strike, the conduct of those who allege they have been 'thrown out of employment" and their present attitude. It is well known that the San Francisco and Colonial Coal Markets, have been so much depressed for some time ported by the former place have been made Cart, Drav, Plough Team, Carat prices realizing less than coat and charges, and in the case of Nansimo at a serious sacrifice to the Coal Company being unable to self their Coal. The company in their desire not to disturb the working of the mine accumulated a stock of 20,000 tons at the Pit's mouth, the workmen being kept regularly employed, and their wages paid with the us-ual regularity. In the anticipation of a lengthened continuance of the unsatisfactory and adverse state of the Coal Markets, the Company could see no alternative but to reduce their home as well as foreign prices in the hope of improving their business by

With this view on the 1st September last notice was given of a reduction to be made in wages, (not at all corresponding with the pro-portion of decrease in selling rates), and on the expiry of this notice the miners held s meeting and decided to refrain from work at CORINE, Jan 30-Last Saturday evening, the reduced rate, and to ask those who stood mer position and wages ! Passing over various minor incidents of a vindictive and malicious coar acter that have transpired, the position now assumed by the men is simply this: they hold out for their own terms, vainly hoping to force the Company to agree to anything they dictate! The Company have endeavored to arrange the dispute upon the basis of mutual concession, and are determined to yield no

DR. CHING FUN-A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD:—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, nxet door Kwong Lee & Co. For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skull of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronehitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became awfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I placed myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen similarly affected may visit him and find relief, Respectfully, JOHN HENTON, of Kentucky, U. S. Victoria, 22d Sept. 1870.
